

Three Reasons to Join CSU-ERFSA

1. CSU-ERFSA works to protect your CALPERS retirement benefits.

As a retired annuitant with CALPERS, you are part of the nation's largest public pension system. However, benefits must be protected. CSU-ERFSA works with statewide retiree organizations to advocate for retirees, monitor legislation, and provide information on issues affecting your pension and financial security.

2. CSU-ERFSA assists members with retiree health care issues.

Problems with health care will continue to challenge retirees. CSU-ERFSA works with CALPERS to address retiree health concerns and keep members informed about issues affecting their medical, dental, and long-term care coverage.

3. CSU-ERFSA strengthens your local campus retiree organization through systemwide connection.

The statewide CSU-ERFSA organization links the retiree groups on all 23 CSU campuses, sharing information about successful programs and activities that can benefit each campus. Your support of CSU-ERFSA strengthens your local campus retiree group. CSU-ERFSA also returns 15% of membership dues to campus retiree associations to directly support their local programs and activities.

The Emeritus and Retired Faculty and Staff Association

The Association was founded in 1985 in response to threats to retirement benefits and to ensure that emeritus and retired faculty and staff are recognized as continuing members of the university community. Accomplishments include:

Persuading the CSU Board of Trustees to adopt the resolution establishing that "emeritus faculty shall be deemed to be continuing members of the academic community and shall have privileges on the same basis as they are enjoyed by the general faculty." CSU-ERFSA works to ensure that campus retiree resolutions are implemented.

Protecting employees' retirement funds. Working with other public employee organizations, we secured the passage of Proposition 162, the California Pension Protection Act, which protects pension funds from use for general budget purposes.

Securing voting membership for a retired faculty member on the CSU Academic Senate. The CSU-ERFSA State Council appoints the retired faculty member to the CSU Academic Senate.

Assisting campus retiree organizations to obtain benefits that are available on other CSU campuses. Retiree parking permits from any CSU campus are now honored on almost all CSU campuses; lifetime free parking privileges for spouses of deceased retirees are offered on most CSU campuses; and retired faculty are now able to serve on graduate committees at many CSU campuses. We are constantly seeking to extend and strengthen the role of retirees on the CSU campuses.

A more complete list is available on the Accomplishments page at csuerfsa.org

The Association maintains a website with current information on issues of interest to retirees. A newsletter, The Reporter, is published four times annually.

The State Council, which meets regularly, is the governing body of CSU-ERFSA. Membership includes representatives from campus-affiliated retiree groups, delegates, and chairs of all standing committees. A paid staff that includes an Executive Director and an Office Manager handles day-to-day operations.
